CAUTERY-1 - Change of Status, LOGANBROCK Assignment

Ref: WGBA-3014

Synopsis: There follows a resume of operational steps taken in order to transfer CAUTERY-1 to a different line of intelligence pursuit.

1. For reasons set forth in a dispatch prepared by the REDCAP section, CAUTERY-1's assignment as interrogator of refugees presumed in possession of REDCAP leads was terminated on 1 September 1953.
2. Simultaneously the REDCAP section has dispensed with the services of CAUTERY-4. The latter has been transferred to the Polish Operations Section where he will serve in the capacity of general operational assistant under the direct control of [] [] A PPO on him will be submitted by the Polish section in due time.
3. Whereas heretofore CAUTERY-1 and -4 used to work as a team, they will henceforth find themselves engaged in different pursuits no longer necessitating operational affiliation.
4. As originally scheduled [] would have resumed operational control of CAUTERY-1. Due to unforeseen circumstances I shall be absent from Berlin on temporary duty which entails making different arrangements.
5. It has been decided to make CAUTERY-1's experience and services available to CADRAIN in support of project LOGANBROCK. Since [] the former LOGANBROCK security specialist has been dismissed, and in line with the present re-assessment of the project, an immediate and pressing need has arisen for the services of a proficient security expert, who will perform a security review of the whole LOGANBROCK complex, draw up a set of recommendations designed to improve the security of its operations, and assure that the measures suggested will be implemented properly.

LECASSOCK is highly vulnerable to hostile interference because of the nature of its principal target, its locus in a denied area under SED control and the fact that SED must be presumed cognizant of its identity and that some of the key personnel involved in operating it. It is our feeling that CARTERY-1 has all the qualifications to perform more than satisfactorily in discharging the responsibilities this job would entail.

6. As agreed between the operations officers involved, CARTERY-1 will for the duration of his mission be assigned to LECASSOCK fulltime. He is to be introduced to the GABRIEL, the German head of LECASSOCK, under his true name. It will be explained to GABRIEL that CARTERY-1 is a German employee of the Programs Branch of HICOG Berlin Element, made available by HICOG on a temporary basis for the purposes envisaged. The exact details of the operational setup can be expected to evolve naturally from talks between the principals involved and will be reported upon by the responsible GABRIEL case officer.

7. There will be no change in CARTERY-1's cover under HICOG Berlin Element. He will thus continue to enjoy the operational benefits that he has derived as a by-product of that cover. In particular some of the support facilities upon which he is in a position to call by virtue of his official position with HICOG can be brought to bear on LECASSOCK's specific requirements. Due care will be taken, however, to avoid a recognizable tie-in between LECASSOCK and Berlin Element. No hard and fast rules can be laid down, but each move will be viewed by experienced operations personnel with that consideration in mind.

8. In addition to his duties in LECASSOCK, which we anticipate to be developing into a fulltime job, CARTERY-1 will continue on call for certain KUBARK assignments as long as he can discharge them without conflict and detriment to his primary HICOG responsibilities. Logistic support however, will be forthcoming thru the facilities of LECASSOCK as approved by

9. As heretofore CARTERY-1's salary will be paid by HICOG on a reimbursable basis. He will retain the use of an agency car (Volkswagen). Expenditures incident to the maintenance of the car will be carried by LECASSOCK. CARTERY-1 will retain the use of an office in the HICOG compound, an official telephone, a safe, a typewriter and pistol issued him by KUBARK. On assignments outside the purview of LECASSOCK, CARTERY-1 will report to

10. CARTERY-1 is currently charged with an investigation in support of the [] project and with the recruitment of a technical source in the SED, offered us by a rather notorious intelligence peddler. CARTERY-1 has been issued a SED and a GABRIEL telephone number for operational use.

11. In view of the reduced scope of GALTREY-1's operational responsibilities, it has not been found necessary to provide him with a revolving fund. For expenditures incurred in the performance of his LEGASSOCK duties, he will be reimbursed under that project. For other expenditures he will be reimbursed thru [] The necessary allocations will be requested as a REFIRE Field Project.
